

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

DISTRICT OF NEVADA

HASAN M. DAVIS,

Case No. 3:22-cv-00559-ART-CLB

Plaintiff,

ORDER

v.

W.C.S.D.F/WASHOE COUNTY, et al.,

Defendants.

Plaintiff Hasan M. Davis brings this civil-rights action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 to redress constitutional violations that he claims he suffered while incarcerated at the Washoe County Detention Facility. (ECF No. 1-1). On January 20, 2023, this Court ordered Davis to update his address by February 21, 2023. (ECF No. 4). That deadline expired without an updated address from Davis, and his mail from the Court is being returned as undeliverable. (See ECF No. 3).

I. DISCUSSION

District courts have the inherent power to control their dockets and “[i]n the exercise of that power, they may impose sanctions including, where appropriate . . . dismissal” of a case. Thompson v. Hous. Auth. of City of Los Angeles, 782 F.2d 829, 831 (9th Cir. 1986). A court may dismiss an action based on a party’s failure to obey a court order or comply with local rules. See Carey v. King, 856 F.2d 1439, 1440-41 (9th Cir. 1988) (affirming dismissal for failure to comply with local rule requiring pro se plaintiffs to keep court apprised of address); Malone v. U.S. Postal Service, 833 F.2d 128, 130 (9th Cir. 1987) (dismissal for failure to comply with court order). In determining whether to dismiss an action on one of these grounds, the Court must consider: (1) the public’s interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the Court’s need to manage its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants; (4) the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic alternatives. See In re Phenylpropanolamine Prod. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217,

1 1226 (9th Cir. 2006) (quoting Malone v. U.S. Postal Serv., 833 F.2d 128, 130 (9th
2 Cir. 1987)).

3 The first two factors, the public's interest in expeditiously resolving this 4 litigation and the Court's interest in managing its docket, weigh in favor of 5 dismissal of Davis's claims. The third factor, risk of prejudice to defendants, also 6 weighs in favor of dismissal because a presumption of injury arises from the 7 occurrence of unreasonable delay in filing a pleading ordered by the court or 8 prosecuting an action. See Anderson v. Air West, 542 F.2d 522, 524 (9th Cir.
9 1976). The fourth factor—the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their 10 merits—is greatly outweighed by the factors favoring dismissal.

11 The fifth factor requires the Court to consider whether less drastic 12 alternatives can be used to correct the party's failure that brought about the 13 Court's need to consider dismissal. See Yourish v. Cal. Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 14 992 (9th Cir. 1999) (explaining that considering less drastic alternatives before 15 the party has disobeyed a court order does not satisfy this factor); accord 16 Pagtalunan v. Galaza, 291 F.3d 639, 643 & n.4 (9th Cir. 2002) (explaining that 17 “the persuasive force of” earlier Ninth Circuit cases that “implicitly accepted 18 pursuit of less drastic alternatives prior to disobedience of the court's order as 19 satisfying this element[,]” i.e., like the “initial granting of leave to amend coupled 20 with the warning of dismissal for failure to comply[,]” have been “eroded” by 21 Yourish). Courts “need not exhaust every sanction short of dismissal before finally 22 dismissing a case, but must explore possible and meaningful alternatives.”
23 Henderson v. Duncan, 779 F.2d 1421, 1424 (9th Cir. 1986). Because this action
24 cannot realistically proceed without the ability for the Court and the defendants 25 to send Davis case-related documents, filings, and orders, the only alternative is 26 to enter a second order setting another deadline. But without an updated 27 address, the likelihood that the second order would even reach Davis is low, so 28 issuing a second order will only delay the inevitable and further squander the

1 Court's finite resources. Setting another deadline is not a meaningful alternative 2 given these circumstances. So the fifth factor favors dismissal.

3 II. CONCLUSION

4 Having thoroughly considered these dismissal factors, the Court finds that 5 they weigh in favor of dismissal. It is therefore ordered that this action is 6 dismissed without prejudice based on Davis's failure to file an updated address 7 in compliance with this Court's January 20, 2023, order. The Clerk of Court is 8 directed to enter judgment accordingly and close this case. No other documents 9 may be filed in this now-closed case. If Davis wishes to pursue his claims, he 10 must file a complaint in a new case and provide the Court with his current 11 address.
